

TAKE INSPIRATION FROM THE AWARDS SEASON TO RE-INVIGORATE YOUR HOME

With the recent BAFTAs and Academy Awards ceremonies in full flow, it seems that the awards season has truly arrived. So why not take inspiration from these lavish events to bring some luxury, style and chic to your home from the internationally acclaimed, award winning design consultancy, Oakeve Interiors.

Having recently claimed victory at the International Property Awards for the Best International Show Home Interior Design, the very scheme that won Oakeve Interiors this prestigious accolade embodies all the style, glamour and opulence clients have come to expect from this premier design consultancy.

When designing a scheme, Oakeve Interiors combine tonal palettes with accents of colour, layering of textured and tactile fabrics, lustrous wallpapers and glamorous accessories, with mood specific lighting to accentuate the overall design. The resulting subversive and overwhelming ambiance of the look is one of pure opulence and understated luxury.

Director, Iona Newton, explains the concept behind the design: "Much like the style of Kelly Hoppen, we wanted to create a look that engenders a calming and zen-like ambiance to relax and inspire those, living within this sumptuous environment. Introducing subtle but luxurious lighting, such as iconic Porta Romana light fittings and opulent accessories with large orchid arrangements embellishing the scheme, it creates a sumptuous and tranquil retreat from the fast pace of modern life."

Renowned for its uber chic, luxurious and elegant design, this recent international industry award recognition has taken the interior design company to an entirely new level:

Iona adds: "This award has given us prominence as a real contender in an International playing field. We are now being approached for commissions within the UK, but also further afield. Having already provided whole house styling for overseas clients, we are currently engaged on projects from super-prime Central London to Sandbanks in the UK and Portugal and Spain in Europe."

Trend seekers looking to acquire such glamour in their own home can find such inspiration at Oakeve's very own interior design store, nestling in the heart of Beaconsfield Old Town. The glamour and luxury of the shop draws you in, whilst the tactile and sumptuous nature of the furniture, exquisite cabinetry, lavish drapes and blinds, complemented through their range of stylish and exclusive accessories, chandeliers, lamps and soft furnishings all serve to delight and excite the senses.

However, these savvy designers can also cater to all budgets. Stocking a range of internationally recognised brands of furniture and accessories, it means that everyone can access a piece of this 'world class' design and interior cool for themselves.

Oakeve Interiors award-winning design store is open from 9<sup>am</sup> – 5<sup>pm</sup>, Monday to Saturday where Iona and her expert team are on hand to offer any help you may need.
